- Administer the spelling-to-dictation test or enter previously collected student data.

To administer a test to one or more students, read each word out loud and in the listed order. Be sure to say the number of each test item before saying the test item (for example, "Number one. Dog. The dog is chewing on his bone. Dog.") Instruct students to look at you, to listen carefully as you say the words and sentences, and to type their responses. Direct students to check their answers and then to use the TAB key to advance to the next field after finishing a response. You may repeat a test item, and students may take as much time as needed to spell a word.

If a student is not proficient with keyboard use, you may ask the student to write the spellings on paper with pencil. The student's spellings can be entered manually into eStickers by an adult.

If working 1:1, you may wish to write the student's spelling as they type their spelling of each word to keep for your records in the rare event of a computer glitch and loss of data.
