

Title: Assessing Foundational Reading & Writing Skills Using Spelling Error Analysis

Audience: All K-12 educators and administrators

Level: Introductory

Course Description:

Attend this webinar to get answers to commonly asked questions about assessing foundational reading and writing skills. Four common types of assessments will be discussed, and you'll learn how to select the one that meets your needs for assessing foundational skills. Benefits and limitations of each of the four common types of assessments will be shared. You'll discover which type of foundational skills assessment links directly to word-level reading and spelling instruction.

Learning Objectives:

1. Describe what foundational skills are common to both reading and spelling of words.
2. Explain why spelling measures can be more useful than reading measures for assessing foundational skills.
3. Describe what spelling errors tell us.
